County Museum Receives Valuable Records as Gifts

The San Mateo County Museum, which is housed in the San Mateo Junior College building, has recently received the California Historical Society Quarterlies from 1928 to 1940, inclusive, as a gift from Miss Marjorie Josselyn of Woodside. The quarterlies represent 13 complete volumes of valuable records. They are accompanied by a bound index.

Dr. F. M. Stanger, head of the museum, said today that the records have already proved useful to students doing historical research, and will grow more valuable as time passes. Among the facts contained in the records are those of land grants, true stories of the old settlers, historical legends of the county, and county industrial development.

In addition to her gift of the quarterlies, Miss Josselyn has loaned the museum a number of additional articles, which include a History of San Mateo County, published in 1878; a History of the Coast Counties of California, which contains many biographies of the early settlers; records of the invoices written by Dr. J. O. Tripp, owner of the old Woodside Store; and minutes and record books of the Woodside Library Association, organized Jan. 3, 1859.

R. C. Convicts' Terms On Theft Charges Fixed

Two San Quentin convicts sentenced from San Mateo County have been allotted their prison terms by the State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles, according to notification received in the county clerk's office today.

Ralph McDaniel, 36, sent to prison Mar. 1, 1939, after being convicted of grand theft in connection with theft of a money bag from the Standard Oil Co. substation in Redwood City, was given a seven-year sentence.

Also sentenced for grand theft was Larry A. McBride, 50, who pleaded guilty last March to stealing jewelry from W. W. Hilton, Redwood City jeweler, by whom he was employed as an outside salesman. McBride's sentence was for 8½ years.

In 1939, American aircraft factories built 3951 civil aircraft and produced 10,355 aircraft engines, according to the census bureau.

McNutt Rules for S.M. In Ordinance Case

Unless further legal action changes the picture, a number of San Mateo attorneys, doctors and dentists will have to pungle up their delinquent fees for doing business in that city.

This is the result of an opinion by Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt, who has overruled a demurrer by Justice of the Peace Hugh F. Mullin Jr. to a suit filed by the City of San Mateo to test the validity of that city's licensing ordinance.

Judge McNutt said that in his opinion the ordinance was legal.

The complaint charged that Judge Mullin owed the city $60 for license fees since June, 1936, plus a $15 penalty.

Income Tax Deputy Sets Visit Here

Thursday, Mar. 27, and Saturday, Mar. 29, have been set as the dates for the visit in Redwood City of an income tax deputy to help citizens prepare state income tax returns. The deputy will be at the Bank of America, 2100 Broadway. No charge is made for his services.

Editorial

'Yes' Votes on Propositions 1, 3; 'No' Vote on Proposition 2 Urged

Before voters of Redwood City next Tuesday at a special election will be three propositions.

This newspaper recommends a "Yes" vote on Propositions 1 and 3; a "No" vote on Proposition 2.

Proposition 1 is to issue $150,000 in bonds to finance improvements at the fast-growing Port of Redwood City. We knew when we voted nearly four years ago to create a deep-water harbor at Redwood City that we were providing only for minimum facilities, and that when business warranted more expenditure, we would have to provide it or else not expect to become a real seaport.

Now the harbor has come to the place where it is actually making money—$2986.35 actual net profit for the first six months of the current fiscal year—and has in sight additional business if we build more wharfage and more warehouse space.

To provide for continuance of the growth of the Port of Redwood City, which means the growth of Redwood City, we must authorize the issuance of this new bond issue, which, the nonsalaried port commissioners, city council, and port manager believe can be paid for out of increased business to be obtained.

Proposition 2 is to issue $75,000 in bonds to finance purchase of additional recreation sites, including "Butcher Field" on El Camino Real between James and Jefferson Aves.

It is our belief that this is an expense which should not be incurred now because of heavy taxes that are bound to be levied due to the national defense program. This bond issue would add about 4.2 cents to the tax rate. Redwood City already has a number of recreation areas, and it seems wiser now to develop those we already possess than to buy additional ones.

Proposition 3 is to issue $25,000 in bonds to develop the recreation areas Redwood City already has, including the new Recreation Center site on Chestnut St. at the end of Broadway. For an addition of only 1.4 cents to the tax rate, we can by approving this issue provide funds to give us recreation facilities comparable to those already possessed by neighboring cities. By voting "Yes" on this proposition, we can compete with these other communities for new residents and give our present residents adequate recreation facilities.

All propositions need a two-thirds majority to be carried. We urge every registered voter to go to the polls next Tuesday and vote as follows:

Proposition 1 ..... Yes
Proposition 2 ..... No
Proposition 3 ..... Yes

17 More Placed in Class 1-A By Redwood City Draft Board

Seventeen new Class 1-A registrants are on the roster of the Redwood City draft board, according to a list released here—but probably none of them will be taken into military service in the next two quotas.

Draft Board Clerk George F. Paul said today that there apparently are enough ready-to-go registrants already on the list to fill the quota of 15 on Mar. 29 and the quota of 8 to be called early in April.

Symbols in the list indicate the following: Class 1-A, fit and ready for service; class 1-B, fit for limited service; class 2, man necessary for civilian activity; class 3, deferred because of dependents. In the 1-A list where addresses are given, unless otherwise indicated the registrant lives in Redwood City. The asterisk (*) indicates a changed classification. The number preceding a name is the man's order number.

Two Finish Air Courses

A Redwood City and a Menlo Park youth each have been graduated from Army flying schools, completing training courses to fit them for important roles in the national defense program.

Chester Haas

Chester R. Haas, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haas of 1020 Clinton St., Redwood City, was graduated as a bombardier instructor at Lowry Field, Denver, Colo., on Mar. 13. Haas attended Sequoia High School and later San Mateo Junior College, where he was active in sports. He entered the Army Air Corps May 13, going to Moffett Field, and then to Lowry Field last November.

Bernard Doyle

Bernard P. Doyle, son of Mr. and J. J. Doyle, Placitas Ave., Menlo Park, was graduated from the Army Air Corps' advanced flying field at Kelly Field on March 14. The class consisted of 310 graduates, the largest to receive wings in the history of the field. Doyle spent 10 weeks at primary flying school, took a basic flying course at Randolph Field, Tex., and finished up at Kelly Field.

He now will be assigned to active duty with the air corps.

Three other Peninsula youths received commissions as ensigns in the Naval Reserve after completing an intensive three-month course at Northwestern University. At their own request they were ordered to active duty afloat. The new ensigns are Donald Franklin Ulrich, 1320 Bernal Ave., Burlingame; Walter Joseph Whittock, St. Mathew Hotel, San Mateo, and Ralph Otto Herbig, 118 Donohoe Ave., East Palo Alto, a graduate of Sequoia High School.

South America has nearly twice the area of Europe but only one-sixth the population.

Gaiety and Fellowship To Reign at Varieties

Gaiety and good fellowship will reign at the San Mateo Masonic Hall this Saturday night when Peninsula Lodge 1312, Bnai Brith, holds its annual Purim Varieties show, the lodge's outstanding event of the year.

According to officials in charge, the 1941 carnival will probably surpass the highly successful show staged last year. Included on the evening's program are a modern version of "Cinderella" in pantomine; a "Fascinating Follies" dance revue; a skit "If Men Wore Hats Like Women"; a playlet portraying the "Trials and Tribulations of a Women's Meeting"; fantastic "Fantasia"—a specialty number; a number of singing acts and the lodge's own orchestra.

Following the program there will be dancing.

Shrine Club Schedules Stag Dinner Saturday

With the Cotton Club on El Camino Real, just south of Palo Alto, as its setting, the annual stag dinner of the Peninsula Shrine Club will be held this Saturday evening. Practically all of the tickets for the affair have already been reserved, but a few can still be obtained from either John C. Forsythe or Glen Stern, Burlingame; Stephen Tinker, Redwood City, or George Gardell, Menlo Park.

About 26 billion gallons of gasoline were produced in 1940.

SAN FRANCISCO BIDS GOODBYE TO ITS PICTURESQUE FERRIES

SAUSALITO FERRY
MARCH 1941
BUSES CONNECTING WITH NORTHWESTERN PACIFIC TRAINS
GREYHOUND DEPOT AT SACRAMENTO & SANSOME STS.

On Friday, February 28, after 75 years of continuous service, the picturesque transbay ferry service between Sausalito and San Francisco was discontinued. Since the construction of the $35,000,000 Golden Gate Bridge, fewer and fewer motorists and commuters have used the slower ferry boat system and the gasoline motor in private passenger cars, swift moving motor trucks and busses finally scored a decisive financial knockout blow to the ferry services. Photographs above show a fair San Francisco motorist standing by a new Ford V-8 sedan on the Marina beach watching the last of the ferries cross the bay; the impressive Golden Gate Bridge and a commuter's view of the empty slips at the Ferry Building and the skyline of the city as he takes a farewell boat ride to Sausalito, and (inset) picture of one of the last commuters to go through the N.W.P. ticket gate at the Ferry Bldg. North Bay residents hope that lowered Golden Gate Bridge tolls will within the next few years make it possible for thousands of private motorists to drive economical cars, like the Ford pictured above, from their North Bay county homes to their San Francisco places of business.

Importance of R. C. Port in Defense Stressed; 'Yes' Vote on Bond Issue Urged

Explaining that he believes the Port of Redwood City is "rendering a valuable service" from the standpoint of national defense, and pointing to significance of the fact the U. S. Army Board of Engineers has urged the federal government to double the appropriation for maintenance of Redwood Creek, Rep. John Z. Anderson, congressman from this district, recommends that Redwood City approve the port bond issue (Proposition 1) on the special city election ballot next Tuesday.

In a letter which was received by this newspaper, Congressman Anderson wrote:

"I have been following with a great deal of interest the activities of your progressive city in connection with improvements to the Port of Redwood City. The fact that your port is growing rapidly in importance and that it is now operating at a profit undoubtedly justifies immediate expansion of existing facilities.

"Of particular significance is the fact that the Board of Engineers of the United States Army has recommended that the annual maintenance appropriation be increased from $15,000 to $30,000. The tremendous increase in the amount of revenue tons handled since the port went into operation is probably the deciding factor behind this recommendation.

"From the national defense angle the Port of Redwood City is rendering a valuable service. I understand that water shipments of cement from the Permanente Corporation move through your port and I presume that you will share heavily in the movement of water shipments from the newly projected magnesium plant.

"I sincerely trust that your electorate will feel fully justified in supporting the pending bond issue and in this connection it is particularly gratifying to note that your city council hopes to amortize the new harbor debt without the imposition of additional taxes. Permit me to assure you of my desire to cooperate in obtaining whatever additional federal assistance may be necessary.

"With every good wish to yourself and my many other good friends in and around Redwood City, I am

"Sincerely yours,

"John Z. Anderson."

Jan Kiepura To Sing At Opera House Sunday

SAN FRANCISCO—When Jan Kiepura, famous tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Co. and one of the most popular artists of radio and screen, comes to the Curran Theater next Sunday afternoon, he will be the last of the Winter Series' offering of the San Francisco Opera Association.

Kiepura takes the place on the series of Lina Pagliughi who was unable to get out of Europe to fill her American concert dates. In announcing Kiepura the Opera Association management said that it felt fortunate in being able to get this artist.

Kiepura, idol of Polish opera, is an intense patriot and during the past year has spent much of his efforts toward relieving the war sufferers in his homeland. He has given a number of concerts, one of which, in Carnegie Hall, he shared with his compatriot, Artur Rubenstein, famous pianist.

Decorated by the kings of Sweden and Belgium and the recipient of the French Legion of Honor, Kiepura was, until the outbreak of the war, one of the most popular tenors on the Continent.

Alec Templeton Billed For S. F. Appearance

SAN FRANCISCO—Alec Templeton, the famous blind pianist who has brought the beauty of music and the smile of good humor to millions through radio and concert appearances, is due in San Francisco for a single concert next Thursday night at the War Memorial Opera House.

Unlike other concert artists, Templeton is regarded universally as a "one-man show." His program is a mixture of the classics presented with faultless artistry that has rated him as one of the really great pianists of the day, and a varied array of improvisations in which good humor and fun are fundamentals.

Some of the numbers that Templeton will offer are of his own composition. Still in his twenties, this amazing young man, who has been a pianist since early childhood, has appeared on many of the outstanding music programs of the nation. He recently completed a 30-week engagement on the Ford Sunday Evening Hour.

Among the places they visited were the New York World's Fair; Washington, D. C.; Mt. Speaker for Women's Guild Optimistic About South

Much has been accomplished in the South since 1861, Mrs. Arthur V. Dunn of Sacramento, past president of the Federation of Northern California Congregational Women, told the Women's Guild yesterday at the First Congregational Church. And much more will be done in the next few years through the gradual creation of a new racial pride in achievement, she said.

Mrs. Dunn related many experiences on her recent travels through the South, where she was especially interested in the Congregational schools for Negroes.

With the guidance of God in affairs of nations as well as individuals as her theme, Mrs. Harland H. Duncan presented the devotions.

Vocal selections of "Winter Lullaby" by De Koven and "Take Joy Home" by Bassett were rendered by Miss Mabel Duncan, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Philip Bray.

The room was decorated with Spring blossoms, purple iris and bridal wreath. The centerpiece for the tea table was a low bowl of heather and camellias.

Mrs. William H. Pfafflin, hostess chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Fred Irwin, Mrs. Ellis Ensor, Mrs. James M. Eva, Mrs. Edward J. Crowley, Mrs. Ralph Dodge, Mrs. Peirce Coombes, Mrs. I. J. Cooper, Mrs. Harry B. Durnam, Mrs. George Burns, Mrs. Franklin Swart and Miss Sallie Nelson.

The biggest manufacturing industry in Alaska is fish canning and processing. This industry employs over 90 per cent of Alaska's 5,400 factory workers. Annual production is valued at nearly $36,000,000.

The Wyoming fish and game commission released 18,347 game birds within the state in 1939-40. Wyoming game wardens arrested 710 persons in the two year period, 1939-40.

Rubinstein To Play In S. F. Tuesday

SAN FRANCISCO—Artur Rubinstein, celebrated Russian pianist now on his third American concert tour and en route to San Francisco where he is to appear at the War Memorial Opera House next Tuesday evening, believes that "beauty is becoming rarer."

"The world is hurtling madly toward darkness and threatening to destroy everything that man holds dear," said Rubinstein. "However, I feel that as time goes on we will treasure more and more the beautiful things that are left in our life.

"Certainly Brahms, Beethoven and Bach are among these beautiful things and I am sure they will grow more precious to us with time."

The volatile artist then relaxed from his seriousness and said with an infectious grin:

"But this threat should not destroy our zest for life. Personally I love danger. There are still many things to live for. Despite Hitler and Mussolini, there are still pleasant things like flowers and cigars."

Rubinstein comes here on the Spring series of The San Francisco Opera Association.

Tickets are on sale at Sherman Clay & Co.

Chief Collins Orders Police Radio Equipment

Redwood City Police Department has been granted a construction permit by the Federal Communications Commission for installation of a two-way police radio system, Police Chief C. L. Collins disclosed.

Chief Collins said broadcasting equipment has already been ordered and its installation will be completed well before Summer. Cost of putting in the two-way system will be about $2000. It will include a broadcasting station at the city hall, operated by the police department, sending and receiving sets in three patrol cars, and receiving sets in three police motorcycles.

Thus, patrolman in "prowl" cars can receive instant instructions from headquarters, and reply immediately. Each police officer will be licensed as a radioman, as required by the FCC.

Mrs. Lois Menegaux Is Taken by Death

Death Tuesday claimed Mrs. Lois Marie South Menegaux, 21, wife of Albert H. Menegaux and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack South of San Mateo. Mrs. Menegaux had been ill in a Redwood City sanitarium for the past several months.

The Rev. Harold A. Crampton will recite the rosary tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Layng & Tinney Chapel in Redwood City. Friday morning at 10 o'clock, Father Crampton will conduct private funeral services for her at the Layng & Tinney Chapel, and private interment will be in St. John's Cemetery, San Mateo.

Mrs. Menegaux's husband is connected with the Pacific Coast Dairy Co. of San Mateo, and her father is a former Peninsula newspaper man, now public relations officer for the State Board of Equalization.

Hotel Robber Denied Mercy

Paul Buttenweiser, 42, one-time Stanford University psychology student and Menlo Park resident who three years ago adopted a Chinese girl, Rowena Chan, in superior court here, was sentenced in San Francisco to San Quentin Wednesday on second degree robbery charges. He was denied probation because he had a "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" personality, the Associated Press reported. Buttenweiser admitted robbing hotels, including one in Palo Alto.

The former University of Cincinnati student and Stanford University research associate was termed a poor probation risk by Superior Judge Robert L. McWilliams after Probation Officer John Kavanaugh said an examining psychiatrist had labeled Buttenweiser a "schizoid psychopathic personality—a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde Personality."

Kavanaugh also declared that Buttenweiser had denied committing any crimes other than two San Francisco hotel holdups to which he pleaded guilty last Mar. 5. Subsequent investigation disclosed the man had robbed the Cardinal Hotel in Palo Alto on December 17, 1940, with a toy cap pistol. Police said he used a similar weapon and a potato masher in staging the holdups in San Francisco.

Kavanaugh recommended against probation on the ground Buttenweiser was emotionally unstable. The prisoner's attorney sought a county jail sentence but Judge McWilliams held that Buttenweiser had had "sufficient education to overcome any moral weaknesses" and decreed a prison term. Second degree robbery carries a sentence of from one year to life.

Buttenweiser was graduated from University of Cincinnati with A.B. and B.S. degrees and obtained his Ph.D. from Stanford in 1935.

WINS S. M. SCHOOL POST

SAN MATEO—A day after announcing a special meeting for Thursday to consider appointment of a new district superintendent to succeed Leil L. Young, the San Mateo School Board revealed here it had given the post to Albion H. Horrall of San Jose, assistant superintendent of schools there for 14 years. He was one of 50 applicants.

Dan Drew Wins School Speaking Tryout

Dan Drew's presentation of a talk on "Citizenship and What It Means to Me" has won him the right to represent Sequoia High School in county tryouts for the California Bankers Association public speaking contest in the early part of April. Chosen as alternate in the school tryouts was Kiyoko Kasai, who spoke on "Youth's Duties in a Democracy."

Winners in the regional contest will enter the finals to be held in San Francisco's Veterans War Memorial Building May. 9.

First prize in the contest is a trip to Hawaii plus $100 for expenses and also free passage and expenses for one adult accompanying the winner.

'China To Win War--With Help From United States'

China will win its war with Japan if it gets help in the form of arms, tanks, munitions and food from the United States—not seven billion dollars worth, as is planned for Great Britain, but only a half billion dollars worth.

That was the belief expressed by Ira C. Lee, San Francisco Chinese editor and lecturer, when he addressed more than 100 members and friends of the Redwood City Commuters Club in the Woman's Clubhouse Wednesday night.

Contending that "China must be treated as an ally of Britain and America," Lee declared that his homeland "is fighting a war of resistance against dictatorship" as well as a war of reconstruction that it can win after a terrific struggle providing it is able to secure supplies.

SUPPLIES CUT OFF

He pointed out that Japanese seizure of such important cities as Shanghai, Peking, Tientsin and Hankow deprived China of 90 per cent of its industrial plants. China is rebuilding in its southeastern provinces, he said, but needs outside assistance.

It is advantageous for America to have China defeat Japan, Lee said, because that would prevent Japan from attacking the Philippines, Singapore and other such strategic places.

Lee said that the Chinese were greatly cheered by passage of the lease-lend bill and by President Roosevelt's talk of Saturday night promising aid to democracies against dictatorship, and he expressed the opinion that "a nation that has fought aggression for 3½ years certainly deserves a break."

ASK ONLY FRACTION

"The Chinese don't expect any such amount as the seven billion dollars asked for Great Britain . . .," Lee said.

"But China in order to win this war must have assistance from the United States.

"If America can give Britain seven billions, let's see to it that China gets at least a fraction of that amount . . .

"It is not only the hope of the Chinese, but of many people in this country that China will be able to get that assistance for her fight in Asia."

Lee, youthful, educated, and an effective speaker using perfect English, held his audience for the greater part of an hour as he told of the struggle of his fatherland against the aggressors; of the methods of defense used by General Chiang Kai-Chek; of the rebuilding of universities; of the finding of homes and occupations for 60 million refugees driven out of captured cities; of plans for reconstruction of the country after the Japanese are driven out.

SOPRANO SINGS

Preceding his talk, Miss Donaldina Lew, Chinese soprano, captivated the group with the singing of three solos, accompanied by Donald Dimond, also of San Francisco.

Work of the Girl Scouts was explained in a skit by Betty Jo Fennell and Leone Bray; Boy Scouts of Troop 160 advanced the colors at the start of the meeting, and Jack Welch, Commuters Club chairman of the scout committee, spoke briefly of the success of that work. W. B. Curran, vice president, acted as chairman after Pres. Wrex Cruse opened the meeting. Joseph Primeau introduced Lee.

PEACE PLAN APPROVED

In a closed session following the open meeting, the commuters voted unanimously to indorse the Co-ordinating Council of Commuters' recent action in approving the Tribune's plan for creation of a countywide committee to study San Mateo County's governmental setup with a view to securing corrections to eliminate turmoil.

The plan was approved by the board of supervisors and County Manager Frederick Peterson Tuesday, and Peterson and Board Chairman Fred E. Beer are to issue invitations soon to countywide organizations such as the commuters' co-ordinating council to appoint one member each to this committee.

Mischa Elman To Play In San Jose Next Week

SAN JOSE — Mischa Elman, master violinist, will play a program of rare interest for lovers of the violin in San Jose Civic Auditorium on Saturday evening, Mar. 29. With Leopold Mittman at the piano, Elman will play the Partita in E minor, Bach-Nachez; Sonata in A major, Faure; Concerto in D minor, Spohr; Larghetto, Dvorak; Russian Dance, Tschaikowsky; Song Without Words, Mendelssohn-Elman; Polonaise Brilliante, in A major, Wieniawski.

Kiwanians Entertain S. M.-Burlingame Club

San Mateo and Burlingame Kiwanis Club members were guests of the Redwood City Kiwanis Wednesday noon at their lunch meeting. A program of Irish music, arranged by Charles G. Lambert, was presented by Hal Honore', Frank A. De Patta and Mrs. Philip Bray. Andrew Spinas was chairman.

The interclub exchange of the log of friendship was made by Larry Hanson of the San Mateo-Burlingame club to the Redwood City club.

Two Stanford students who are on a national debating tour, Robert Newell and Lincoln Moses, debated the question; "Resolved That the Foreign Policy of the United States Is Sound."

Newell, taking the affirmative, declared that all-out aid to Britain is "the American way of life," that the United States government is based upon the same ideals and principles as Britain's, as opposed to those of Germany's, and that victory for Britain means security for America even with a small navy and army.

On the negative side, Moses argued that the war has an economic basis, aside from the military, and asked whether the cause was idealistic or economic, whether it was another outcropping of the age-old European struggle for power. The United States is sacrificing her position as an unbiased arbiter at the end of the struggle by actively supporting Britain, he asserted. The cost will be about the same whether the nation goes to war or not, he said.

Top earning ages for most people are between 38 and 40.
